HAROLD MOUNCE

In Memory of

Harold
"Skip" Mounce

As we look back through the passing years, we can see a number of lights sparkling in our memories.

We pay tribute to one whose light seemed to shine true.

The glow of his light in our memories is brighter because of the fine ideals which molded his character.

Through his death we are made to realize that every life has a purpose here on earth.

Page

The annual staff asks you to interrupt your routine for a few minutes to glance at the 1966 Comet. Its pages are filled with memorable school days.

Look back and remember your views of the typical classroom. You may see yourself gazing out the window at a beautiful spring day while the teacher explains why x equals y , or find yourself entranced as he explains why Hamlet was mad.

Look back and remember the friends, fads, activities, and recognition you experienced. Also, the teachers and books that were preparing you for the adult world you would face when you left the classroom.

Now, look ahead and widen your view to include your role as members of tomorrow's community. Remember, each time you acquire knowledge in a field that is new to you, a window is opened through which you will be able to look all your life. The more windows one has to look through, the broader the view. The Comet windows are now open for you to enjoy.

Activities Add Variety

THE DESOLATE STILLNESS of an empty stadium is waiting to be shattered by the hustle and roar of a victorious football game.

For the first time, the new football field was used. An enthusiastic pep club supported the team at games.

As the Christmas season approached, holiday joy was reflected in the happy faces of students.

The true spirit of Christmas was enjoyed as clubs cooperated to take food to needy families.

JIM SMART, WILLIS Zinn, Frank Moore, and other active Lions Club members helped promote and build the new stadium.

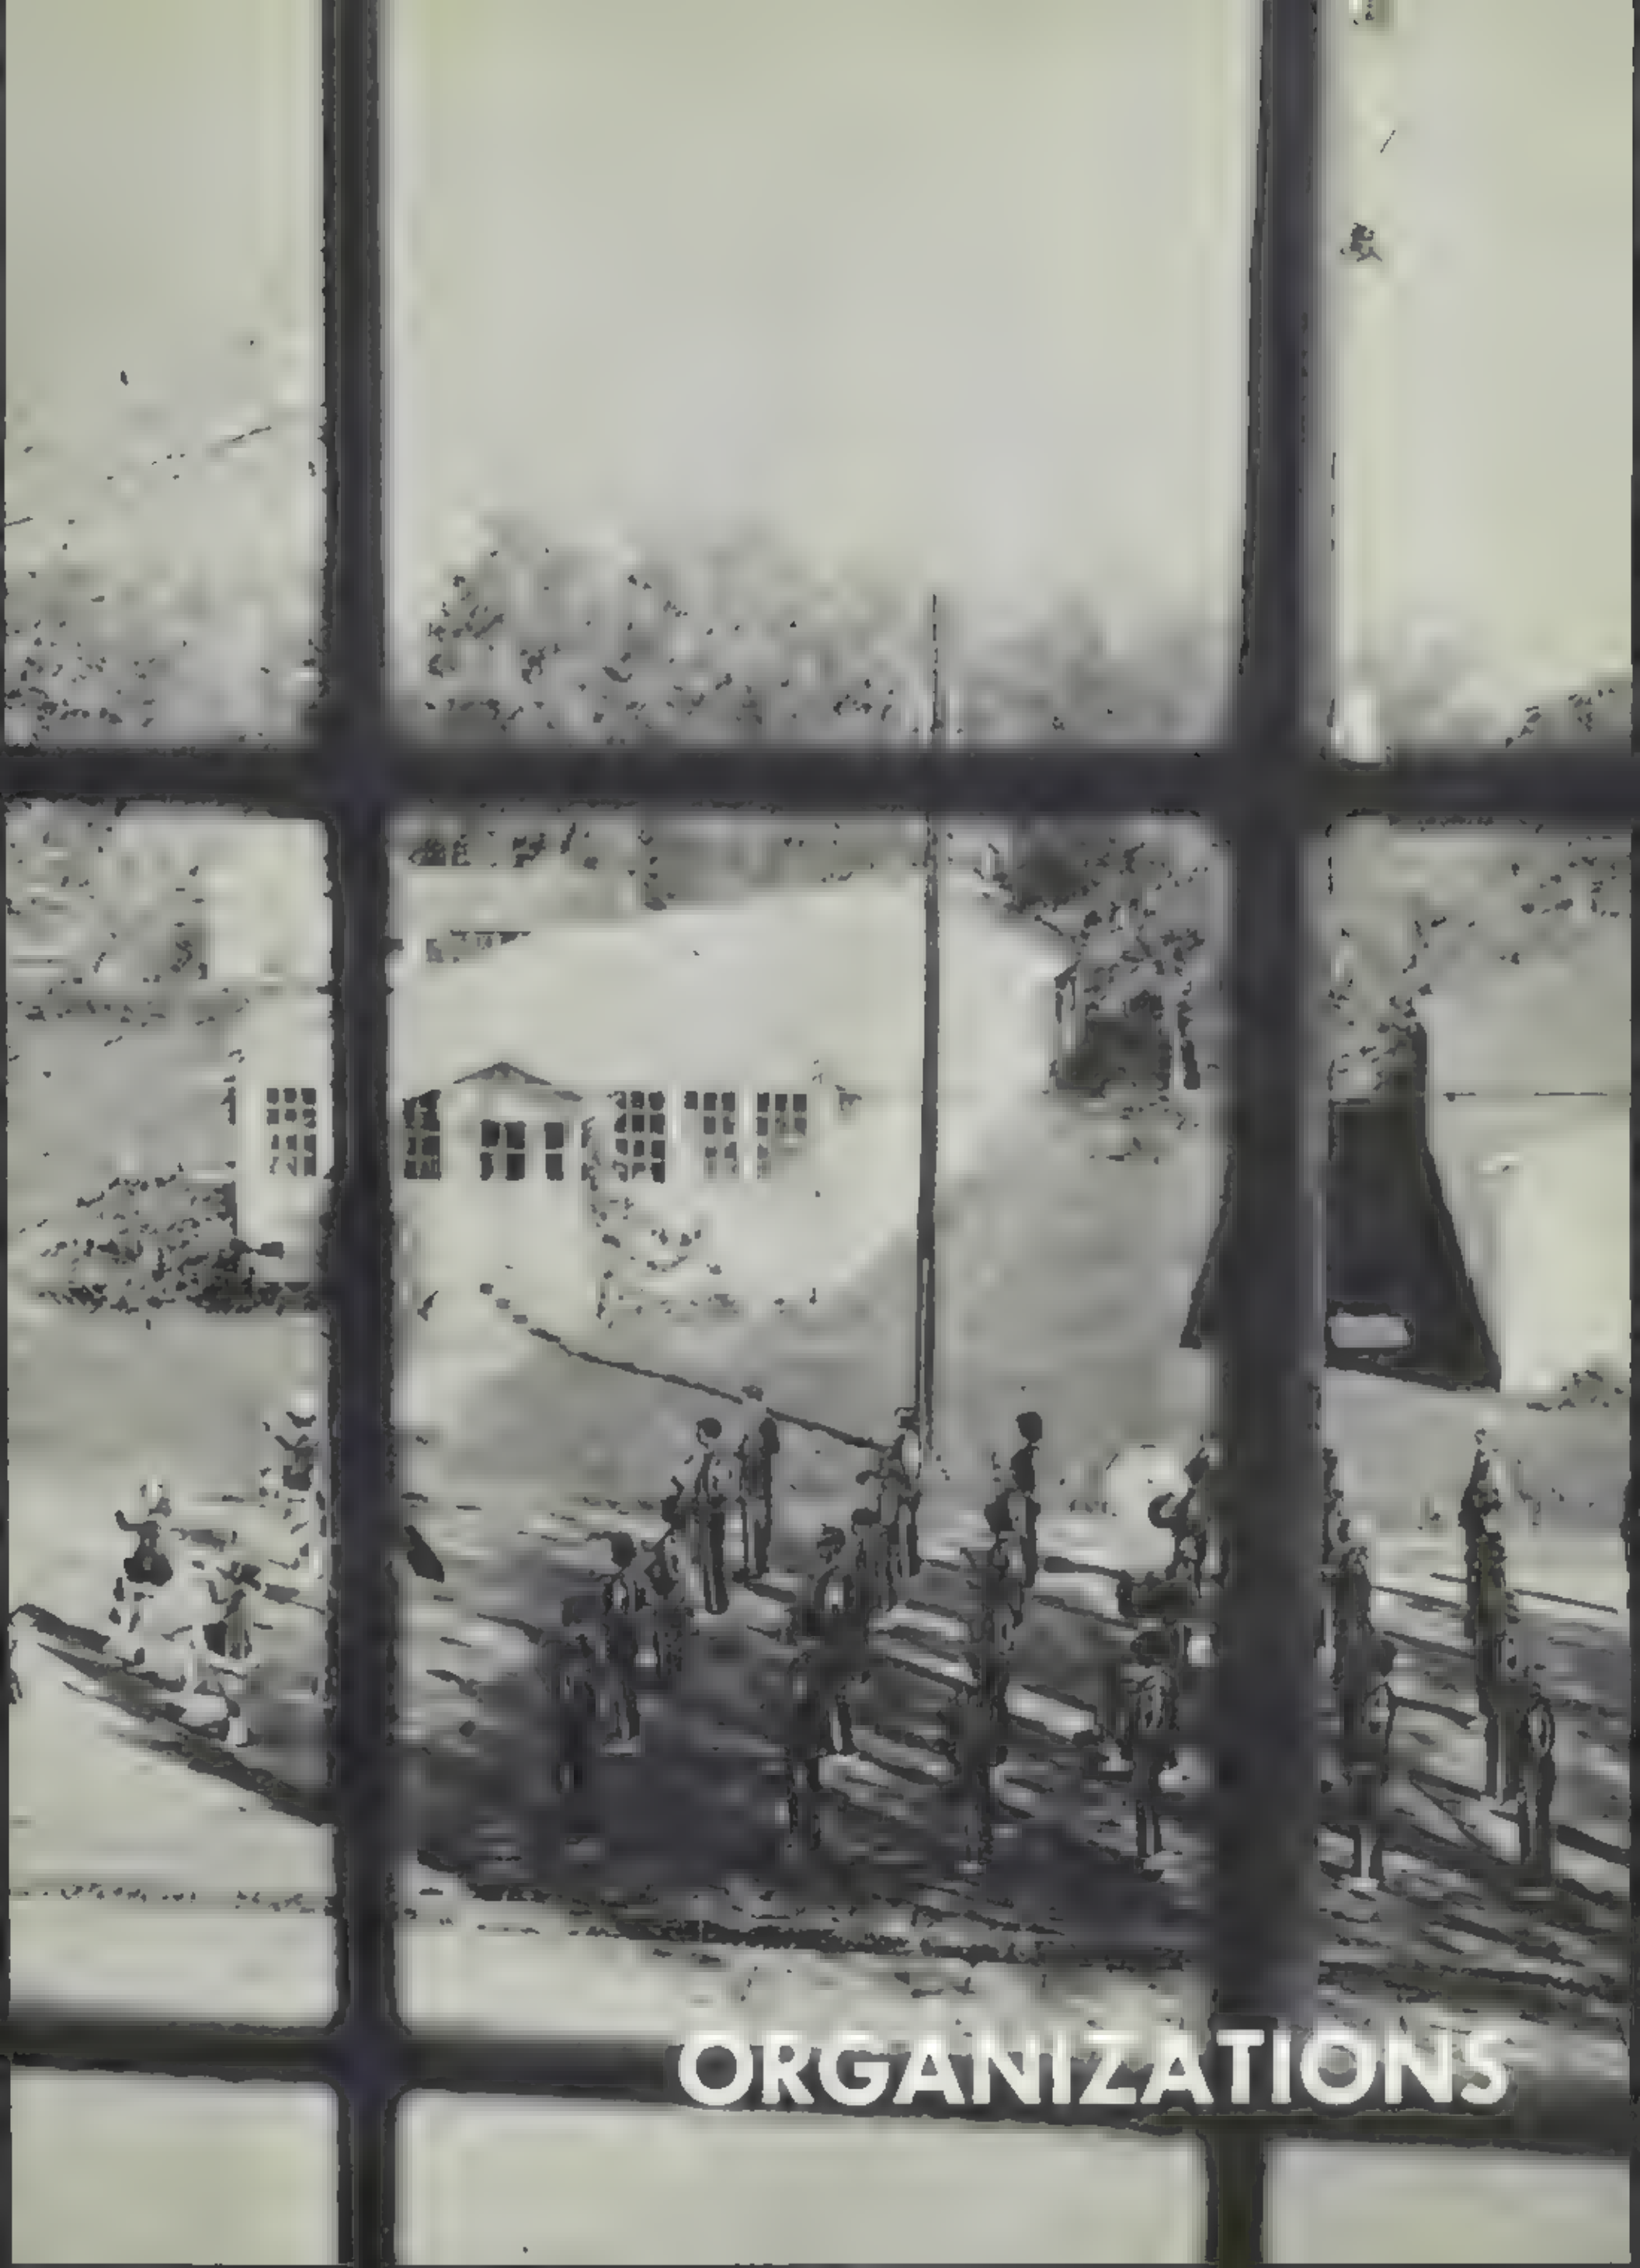

ANITA DANIEL AND Connie Elliott decorate a food basket for an F. B. L. A. project.

COACH PHIL COLLINS awards Ray Newton his letter jacket at the close of the football season.

INTENSE CONCENTRATION SHOWS on Eddie Wood's face as he tries to solve a Bookkeeping Practice Set problem.

ORGANIZATIONS

Students Represents School

EARL BURK, PRESIDENT of the student body, emphasizes an important point in his acceptance speech during installation ceremonies.

Representing the student body, the Student Council benefits the school in several ways. High objectives proposed are reached through council effort.

Members assume such responsibilities as arranging assembly programs, decorating for homecomings, checking lockers, and promoting the polio drive through the intramural basketball tournament.

Democratic leadership is carried out through the able assistance of the council's sponsor, Mrs. Susan Smith.

MAKING POSTERS for the talent show took the time and effort of Mary Tiede, Mike Norris, and Gail Burk

Library — The Gateway to Learning

The library staff is composed of student librarians under the supervision of the librarian, Mrs. Susan Smith. Its purpose is to serve the student body. The library serves as a center for obtaining all kinds of reference material, film strips, recordings, and books for serious, as well as leisure reading.

Most librarians begin their training as freshmen during the year's last quarter. The following year they are prepared for the duties and responsibilities expected of library assistants.

Each year new books and magazines are added in order to meet the needs of the students. Thus, the library continues to grow and become more useful.

LIBRARY STAFF INCLUDES, left to right: L. Mooneyham, S. Bennage, J. Morrison, P. Kasinger, H. Erb, S. Sellars, V. Tiede, D. Lathrop, J. Baxter, S. Wrinkle, S. Wise, J. Gibson, J. Janes, J. Marks, O. Johnson, and Mrs. Susan Smith, Librarian.

Comet Staff . . .

Planning for the 1966 Comet began last spring as soon as the last shipment for the '65 Comet was sent off. First, a theme and cover must be chosen. Then, come the layouts, pictures, copy, cuts, headlines, and, of course, lots and lots of work.

All of these things are changed many, many times. Then, page by page, the Comet is finished for one more year.

A history, a memory book, a training for writers, photographers, and salesmen, and people with a few spare minutes are wrapped up in a yearbook.

The Comet staff hopes that each of you will find the pages of this yearbook as windows to friends, teachers, activities, and classes.

SMILING STAFF MEMBERS, Linda Mooneyham, Donna Blades, and Ann Stanton are on their way to sell ads.

Home Ec Is More Than Cooking

Home economics is no longer just a course in cooking and sewing. It has expanded to include other related topics, such as growth and development of children, human relations, buying for the home and family, goods and nutrition, clothing selection and construction, interior decoration, and budgeting.

Creativity is stressed in the sewing classes. Students can create the effect wanted by designing their own styles through the basic patterns, colors, shapes and lines.

Home economics is now taught in a more scientific way. The course prepares the girls to be a better woman, wife, and mother.

F.H.A. OFFICERS ARE, seated, left to right: Brenda Newberry, Recreational Leader; Evelyn Lewis, Parliamentarian; Lois Clevenger, Treasurer; Sandy Sellars, Second Vice-President; Virginia Tiede, President. THE MEMBERS OF the beginners' band develop their talents as performers so they can become the future band members.

Under the direction of Mr. Heinen the glee clubs learn to express their musical talents.

Participation in programs at Christmas and Easter highlight the efforts of the glee clubs.

In the spring their vocal ability is put to test by participating in contest and spring concerts.

Students and faculty were happy to have Mr. Heinen back in the Marionville school system after an absence of one year.

THE ORCHESTRA PERFORMS effectively at various school functions. Although it was started only a few years ago, it increases steadily each year.

Mr. Herschel Heinen
Music Director

With the welcomed return of Mr. Heinen, a long-time favorite among the students, the band and drum corps increased in both size and quality.

Preparation for the first half-time show, and those to follow, begins the year with a busy pace. Next come the Christmas parade and, of course, the various assembly programs.

ACTIVITIES

Comet Belle and Beau

Highlight of the Comet Staff year is the election of the Annual Belle and Beau. The boy and girl chosen, reign as king and queen of the Comet. The staff itself nominates one boy and one girl from each class, and the student body chooses their favorite couple. Identity of the winners is not known to the student body until the coronation of the Belle and Beau at the "coming-out" party. The two chosen for the honor are crowned by the editor. The remainder of the afternoon is spent in the presentation of annuals and the signing of a year's souvenir.

Highlight of Sports Season Was

FOOTBALL QUEEN
SARA COOK

The big event of the fall season at MHS is homecoming. The candidates are chosen by the football team. Then the queen is elected by vote of the student body. Selected to reign as Football Homecoming Queen of 1965 is Sara Cook, senior candidate. Her attendants are Helen Erb, junior; Janice Hurst, sophomore; and Teresa Higgins, freshman. The queen's crown bearer and her escort are Sheila Lawson and Greg McCord. An expectant crowd, excited queen candidates, a lovely night. . . this setting, snatched from the past will long remain in the minds of many MHS students.

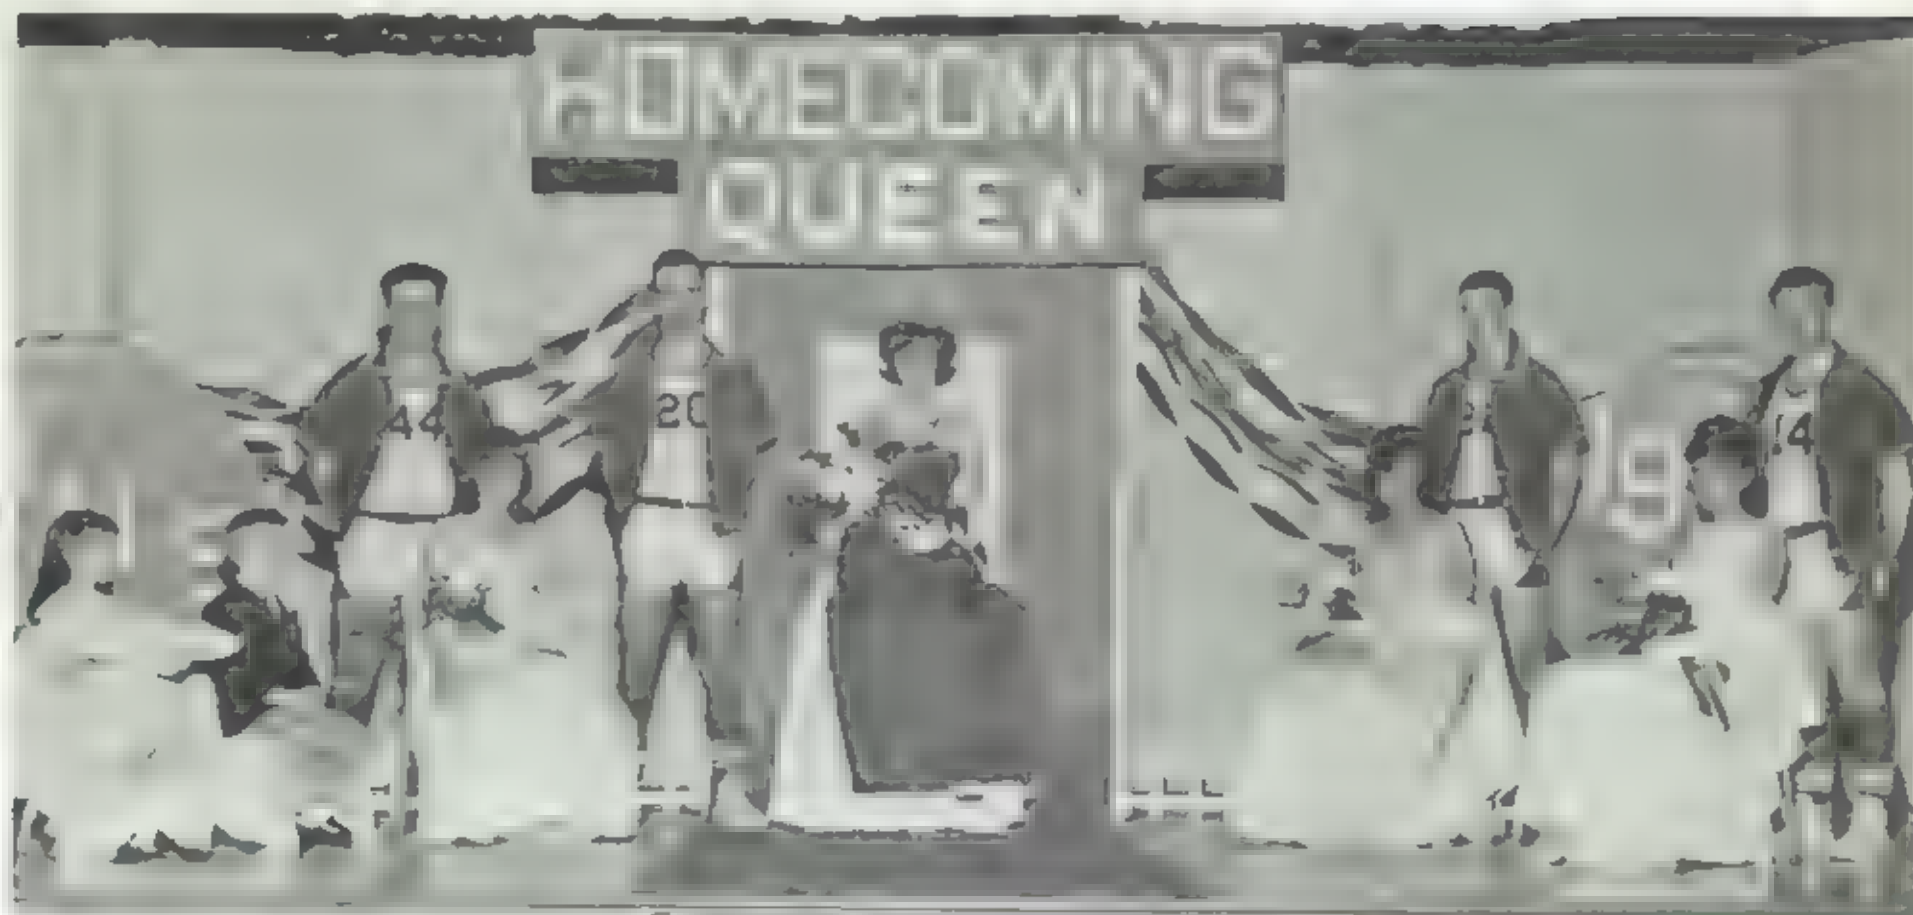

THIS IS A moment to be remembered as Sara's title of Queen is made official by Myles Elliott.

Crowning of Homecoming Royalty

Queen Olga Johnson, Jackie Janes, Ronnie Miller, Violet Meyer, and Stanley Eden.

A night of glamour, one to be remembered--these will be the thoughts of the student body as they look back on Basketball Homecoming of 1966. Olga Johnson, senior, is to be crowned queen at half-time of the Aurora vs. Marionville game. She was chosen by the basketball team and the student body. Her attendants are Sally Bennage, junior; Violet Meyer, sophomore; and Jackie Janes, freshman. The crown bearer is Sandra Hammonds, and her escort is Kevin Brown. The royalty is to reign over the remainder of the game.

CAUGHT IN THE act is Herman Cummings as he crowns Olga Basketball Homecoming Queen of 1966.

BASKETBALL QUEEN
OLGA JOHNSON

GRETCHEN MILLER SEEMS to be upset, but is being conformed by Knial Souttee and Bob Tappana in this junior play scene.

On Friday night, November 12, 1966, the junior class presented "I'm a Family Crisis," by Esther Olson. This delightful farce is about a teenage chatterbox who suddenly seems to lose the power of speech and the excitement that really breaks loose in her family!

Taking part in a play is both a rewarding and a learning experience. It is exciting, hectic, and of course takes much hard work and co-operation. The thrill of participating either as a cast member or a member of the backstage crew is one that each student will never forget. The brief experience that is enjoyed by the audience represents weeks of preparation not only by the cast, but by all the production crews.

Cooperative Effort Produces Successful Plays

Third Row: Coach Horner Askins, T. Perry, B. Cook, G. Janes, M. Brenner, M. Elliott, H. Cummings, L. Killman, B. Elliott, S. Eden, Coach Phil Collins.

The record says the 1965 Comets lost, but look a little closer. Perhaps they won more than other teams this season because of the personal qualities that were developed. When a team fights and struggles week after week for a victory that continues to escape its grasp, each boy on that team develops courage and integrity.

The boys never quit; they never said "Enough!" The 1965 football team was not beaten because it just never was.

Selected for All-Conference Second Team were L. Killman and Herman Cummings. Bob Elliott and Mike Elliott received honorable mention.

"COME ON, BOYS, get that ball down the field," shouts Coach Collins.

The Marionville varsity began the season with a bang by defeating Verona 66-43. The team had its low moments as well as its high ones, but gained the respect of all opposition while finishing with a 12-12 record. The team has averaged 65 points per game throughout the year.

The team had a good tournament record, entering three tournaments and bringing home three trophies. They won third place in both their own and the Purdy tournament and won the consolation prize at Galena.

This is Coach Horner Askins' first year at Marionville. He worked hard all during the season to improve the teams in both offense and defense.

Individual coordination and skill, as well as synchronized teamwork go into the Marionville track season each spring. Much time was put into work on improving in such events as hurdling, dashes, relays, broad jumping, high jumping, pole vaulting, shot put, and discus. Each person on the team worked hard to improve his team and individual performances.

Coaches Phil Collins and Horner Askins worked together to prepare the boys for the tough competition provided by this area. Good sportsmanship was strongly stressed to enable the boys to be good losers as well as winners.

The Junior High Comets had a fine season. The eighth grade had an over-all 11-1 record. They averaged 42 points per game to their opponents 18. They won first place in the S.W.C.L. with an 8-0 league record.

The seventh grade had a 4-1 record, losing only to Republic by a score of 32-39.

The freshman team, handicapped by a shortage of players, won only one game while losing six. Only six boys went out for the freshman team this year.

Cheerleaders Initiate Enthusiasm

Second Row: Donna Blades, Kathy Cook, and Charle Burnett.

The high school cheerleaders for this season are very energetic and have improved the pep club in many ways. Perhaps the most important improvement is the co-operation between the cheerleaders and the pep club members.

The cheerleaders have composed many new cheers throughout the year. Their precision routines, yells, and their warm smiles are all familiar sights at the games.

The cheerleaders also promote school spirit by holding pep rallies and a homecoming bon-fire.

Behind the cheerleaders is the Marionville Pep Club which adds its support and encourages the crowd to yell for the "mighty Comets."

CO-CAPTAINS OF THE Cheerleaders are seniors Charle Burnett (in front) and Donna Blades.

F.F.A. 2,3,4.

Many hours are spent by seniors with books, tests, pictures, rings, cramming, sports, concession stand, extracurricular activities, memorizing play lines, banquet, leafing through college catalogues, vying for scholarships, or otherwise planning for the future. These are all signs of senior days at Marionville High School.

Despite a feeling of wistfulness, the seniors look back with pride upon their experience as leaders, accomplishments in scholarship, the many good times enjoyed through participation in extracurricular activities, and recognition rewarding work well done--four steps toward the ultimate achievement in their high school career--graduation.

Juniors Face

Terry Ackley
Lois Andrus

The junior year is one filled with many activities as students move up to take their new positions as upperclassmen.

Two of the main events highlighting the year are the junior play and the junior-senior banquet given by the junior class.

Also with the advancement comes a turn toward the serious side, for it is during this year that plans for the future begin to take shape and classes for the senior year are planned accordingly.

Freshmen Enter a New

Freshmen find a new window open to them as they enter high school. New subjects are explored. Boys are allowed to participate in varsity sports. Girls display their skills as they try out for the position of freshman cheerleader. New organizations are joined. Freshmen make their first year of high school one to be remembered always.

ADMINISTRATION

Administration: Reflection

SUPERINTENDENT
MAURICE W. WILEY
B.S., S.M.S.
M. ED., DRURY

Maurice W. Wiley, superintendent for the past seven years, has assumed his responsibility well. Under his administration a grade school has been built, a new athletic field completed, and several new departments have been added to the curriculum.

One of Marion Shipman's jobs, as secretary to Mr. Wiley, is keeping an accurate set of records

old Maples, Bill Fulks, and Willis White, Vice-President.

MR. BILLY B. REDUS
B.S., Arkansas Tech.
M.S., U. of Mo
M.A., U. of Ark.

Mr. Bill Redus is now serving his eighth year as high school principal.

In an attempt to give each student more individual help he has given up his double roll as teacher and principal.

The integrity, honesty, and dependability of Mr. Redus reflects on the students of Marionville High School.

Mr. Redus spends his spare time fishing and hunting.

MR. RONALD TALLEY
B.S. Ed., S.M.S.

Mr. Ronald Talley, former graduate of Marionville High School, occupies the position of junior high principal.

Along with his duties as principal he teaches history, physical education, and coaches both the seventh and eighth grade basketball and football teams.

His hobbies include football, golf, and all outdoor sports.

STUDENT OFFICE WORKERS include Vicki Bowman, Sharon Gardner, Trevor Perry, Donna Blades, and Ann Stanton.

SHARON GARDNER STANDS tall as Mr. Wiley measures her for her senior cap and gown.

"FRIENDS, COMETS, COUNTRYMEN, lend me your ears," says Helen Erb.

The Comet Windows Close

As the shade is pulled, the '66 Comet comes to a close. The seniors will remember it with fondness because it represents a look at the past and a guide for the future.

For those returning next year, the shade will open once again to friends, teachers, lessons, clubs, and activities.

Best wishes to you and yours
Love you

Best of luck in the future to a sweet girl
Love you

Being in band with you has been loads of fun. I hope to get to know you better in the years to come. Best of luck in everything.

It's a good to a near neighbor like to a son who hate (that) a little

Dear Carol,

Don't ever forget the day we had the pizza party. Be a good girl

Love ya,
Beth

The first of these is the fact that the system is not self-sufficient. It is dependent on the government for its maintenance and operation. This is a serious flaw in the system, and it is one which must be corrected if the system is to be of any value.

Dear Carol,
 Haven't we had a BLT this year. The surprise we haven't been caught. Boy, but has been just like we can be together
 this next year.
 May God bless you
 Love
 Jo

Love and best wishes,
Nancy

Stout

Carol, Lots of love to you and the family.
 Love,
 Mom
